Region 4 LIMS DATA EXPORT

Please consult your local Computer Support services if you have problems utilizing these files.

If you have questions concerning the analytical results, contact Region 4 LIMS support by email at r4lims@epa.gov or contact the analyst listed on the transmittal memo and email.

The files included in the zip archive may vary depending on needs. However, at a minimum, the following files will be included:

ReadThis.txt

This file - the file you're reading now.

R4Export.txt

A tab delimited ASCII text file that contains sample and analytical information for the reported dataset. The first row contains column headers that have been named to provide a reasonable explanation as to the type of data contained in the particular column.

QualifierDefinitions.txt

A tab delimited ASCII text file that contains the list of qualifiers and their definitions used in this dataset.

ReportNarrative.txt

An optional ASCII text file containing further information about the samples and/or analytical results. Not all datasets will include this file.

EPAR4_FSAMPLE_v1.txt

A tab delimited ASCII text file containing sample information for use with the Region 4 D.A.R.T. system.

EPAR4_RES_v1.txt

A tab delimited ASCII text file containing results information for use with the Region 4 D.A.R.T. system.

EPAR4_TST_v1.txt

A tab delimited ASCII text file containing test information for use with the Region 4 D.A.R.T. system.

The Region 4 D.A.R.T. (Data Archival and ReTrieval) database system is expressly designed for environmental data. It provides tools for Region 4 personnel to assist in the acquisition and tracking of data, and includes a user interface that allows for easy retrieval of data in several formats. It also allows for advanced usage of the data by integrating seamlessly with a variety of commercially available software programs.

Files designated for use with the Region 4 D.A.R.T. system have been formatted specifically for the Region 4 D.A.R.T. database system, and are not generally useful for purposes outside of that system.

For more information about the Region 4 D.A.R.T. system, send an email message to R4DART@epa.gov
